

THE POLITICAL POT.

The Campaign Opened in the City Last Evening.

CITY AND COUNTY MEETINGS.

Considerable Interest Manifested by the Large Audiences Last Evening—The Goodwin Galoots.

The political campaign on the People's side was opened in this city and county last evening, when meetings were held at Mill Creek, in the First, Fourth, Eighth, Fifteenth, Seventeenth and Twenty-first wards. At all of these places there was a good attendance, and the interest manifested was very noticeable.

The attendance at the meeting held in the Fourth ward last evening was not large, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm.

John C. Cutler was introduced as the first speaker. He commenced by reading the Declaration of Independence, which was listened to with the closest attention. The speaker characterized this document as an able and manly one, and it came from a man who had labored faithfully for the whole people. Opposed to him was a man who advocated the disfranchisement of the majority in this territory, not for anything they had done or were expected to do, but because of some belief they entertained. He urged all voters to turn out on election day, and administer a fitting rebuke to the man who advocated the disfranchisement of the people, and elect John T. Caine to Congress.

Orson A. Woolley was the next speaker. He said the coming election was the most important of any held here for a long time. He was satisfied that the taste the people had of Liberal rule had not given them a banking for any more of it. The record of the People's party was one of which all could feel proud, and a more worthy standard bearer than John T. Caine could not have been chosen. Every one who was interested in the prosperity and welfare of the territory should vote for him and there was no doubt but that he would be re-elected if the members of the People's party did their duty.

Professor Willard Dore was then introduced. He said he had no fear as to the result of the coming election, and there had been no fear as to the future of the territory with John T. Caine as its representative in the council of the nation. The records of the two candidates were before the people, and it was the duty of the People's party to vote for him and the Tribune editor. He closed by making an eloquent appeal to his hearers to do their duty in this struggle and not allow their sense of security to render them less active in discharging their duties.

A choir, composed of young ladies, sang a patriotic song in excellent style, and the meeting then adjourned.

The people of the Fifteenth ward had a rousing and enthusiastic rally. The meeting was called to order by Thomas Hall, who acted as chairman. David McKenna was the first speaker. He dwelt at some length on the subject of the foundation of the so-called Liberal party, and said that it was founded upon the principles of hate and slander. It had never changed its principle, but has always sought to overthrow and destroy the Mormons, and to create prejudice against them. He said that the cause of the Johnson army being sent here was based on nothing else but prejudice and false report sent to the nation's capital. Self-aggrandizement was the real sentiment of the Liberal leaders. Those who advocate disfranchisement are the real traitors. The speaker paid a great tribute to the labors of John T. Caine in Congress.

R. W. Young read an abstract of an editorial in the Tribune of Oct. 11, 1890, showing the infamous attitude in which the Liberal candidate for Congressional honors found himself. Mr. Young made a strong argument against the admission of such men to power, and short speeches were also made by F. S. Richards and John N. Pike.

The meeting held in the Eighth ward was crowded, the speakers being E. A. Folland, J. H. Paul and A. H. Cannon.

People's Political Meetings.

Meetings in the interest of the People's party will be held as announced below, and the public are respectfully invited to attend them. Committees and other active members of the party are requested to circulate the news and do all that is in their power to secure large assemblies and arouse general interest. The speakers will please take appropriate appointments, as they will not probably receive any other notification. In case of the inability of any speaker to attend, he should at once inform the secretary of the People's territorial central committee.

TIED TO A LIMB.

The Ghastly Discovery Made by a Wife Yesterday.

SUICIDE OF JOHN H. LANDRETH.

Ill-Health and Dependency the Cause—The Body Shipped East to the Deceased's Old Home.

A short time ago John H. Landreth, accompanied by his wife and eight-year-old son and his father-in-law, Christine Schaler, left his home near Springfield, Ill., and came to Salt Lake for his health, which for some time had been failing. Mr. Landreth was possessed of considerable wealth, and about a week ago he had been fitted up a comfortable home on West Temple street, between Sixth and Seventh South. His health did not improve as rapidly as he expected it would and he had of late become very despondent. On Sunday night he requested his wife to fix up a separate bed for him in the same room with her, so that he would not disturb her rest. She did so, and after they had retired, he commenced talking about returning to his home in Illinois, and asked his wife if she would start the next day. She agreed to do so, and after some further talk she went to sleep, but some time after was awakened by hearing her husband's dressing himself. After putting on his clothes, Mr. Landreth went out of the house, and his wife dozed off again. When she awoke, she found that her husband had not returned and she commenced to grow nervous, and at 4 o'clock in the morning she partly dressed herself and went out in the yard to see what had become of Mr. Landreth. As she stepped out into the moonlight, a horrible sight met her gaze. There swinging from the limb of a tree, motionless and cold in death's embrace, was the form of her husband. Mrs. Landreth rushed to the tree and lifting the body so that the strain was taken from the limbs, she found him suspended, she screamed for help until Messrs. Derge and Warner, who were near by, came to her assistance and cut the body down. A brief examination showed that life had been extinct for at least an hour.

These facts were elicited at the inquest held by Coroner Harris yesterday, and a verdict of death by suicide was rendered. The body of Mr. Landreth was shipped to his old home last evening, and the widow and her child will follow in a day or two.

St. Paul Operators Go Out.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 27.—All the operators, thirty-seven in number, in the Western Union Telegraph company's office in this city struck at 8 o'clock to-night, and all the company's wires in the city are idle. The men are in a body at the city hall, and are demanding a five day's strike of the company's wires in the city are idle. The men are in a body at the city hall, and are demanding a five day's strike of the company's wires in the city are idle.

The discharged man called on Superintendent McMichael in Minneapolis, this afternoon, to try and effect an agreement, but were not recognized, and the strike is the result.

The telegraph company sent at once for the day force to take the night shift, but the strikers met them on the street and kept most of them from going to work. A majority of the 150 operators employed by the Western Union Telegraph company in the city are in sympathy with the strikers, and it is asserted that the day men belonging to the organization will go out in the morning. The men here think the Western Union company will not be able to deliver on the natives implicated in the recent murder of Germans.

A Long and Short Haul Decision.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—A lengthy decision of the Interstate commerce commission, made by Bragg, commissioner, was announced to-day in the case of George Rice against the Southern Pacific railway company, the Atchafalaya, Topoka & Santa Fe railroad company and others, in reference to the rates on petroleum and its products to California points from the Gulf of Mexico and short haul cases. The decision is in favor of the rail lines and maintains the position that under the regulations of the Interstate commerce act, the rail lines are not subject to the act, and in reference to the carrying of freight of a large amount, the decision states that the other elements of the complaint of what the defendant rail carriers make low rates to receiving tank stations in California to favor the Standard Oil trust and its affiliated companies, firms and associations, and their low rates from such receiving tank stations to adjacent points whereby preference is given these shippers over other shippers of this kind of freight, is not sustained by the evidence in the proceedings. The Southern Pacific company is ordered to publish its rates as to this class of freight in its west bound tariff at stations between Sacramento, Crocker, on the Central Pacific railway, Crocker, Atchafalaya, Topoka & Santa Fe railroad, in order to publish the rates as to this class of freight in the west-bound tariff between Los Angeles, New Mexico and California terminal points, as to transcontinental lines. The complaint is dismissed, but is held for further investigation in the case of certain lines in the southwest roads, who are also parties defendant in the proceedings.

A SINGULAR VISITATION.

A Young Man's Peculiar Vow, and the Effect It Had on His Appearance.

The First Steam Fire Engine.

At the suggestion of the fire insurance companies of New York city, a machine named Paul Hodge, a resident of Gotham, constructed a steam fire engine, which was first publicly tested in front of the New York city hall, in March, 1844. It was a total failure. The board of directors offered a gold medal for the best method of applying steam to the propulsion of water for fire purposes. This prize was won by John Ericsson, the maker of the Monitor, and was given to him, and more recently removed to his native country.

The official report has the following paragraph in regard to Ericsson's engine: "The points of excellence as thus narrowed down were found to belong to an engine weighing less than 2½ tons, which has the power of 108 men, and will throw 3,000 pounds of water per minute to a height of 105 feet through a nozzle of 1½ inches in diameter. The model in question was submitted by one John Ericsson."—St. Louis Republic.

Dyspepsia.

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus Sick Headache removes the symptoms. It gives the bowels a healthy action, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia.
